The Athenian Mercury.

Saturday, July 13! 1695.

We thought it might be no small Entertainment to the Reader to insert the following Paper (which we received this Week from a Worthy Gentleman), intituled,

A Prophely of King VVilliam's Greatness, By Stephen Mellisha Polonian. Prefented to the French King by the Annotator and Publisher thereof, in Anno 1660. Translated from the High-Dutch, per T. B. who has the Original now in his hands, and is willing to she wit to any Gentleman that is desirous to be fully satisfied therein.

N Palm Sunday (the 9th April), I Dreamed I was walking, and lo, a Certain unknown Man came into my Company, and we went together, till we came to a very great Palace; the Name of which I cannot tell. And the Man led me on one fide, and asked me from whence I were ? I faid from Poland. What Perfivation (Religion ) are you of? Of the Reformed, Evangelical, do you fing French Plalms ? Yes, (aid I, that is my greatelt Joy, lying down, and upriting. Hereby he gained my affection and faid, Stand by me here, No evit shall befall thee; Thou thate fee great things which thall fhortly come to pass; what thou doily not understand, ask me of it and I will explain it unto thee. Then prefently he transformed himfelf into another thape, like that of a spiritual (Ecclesiastical) person, and I standing on this fide him, faw all things very properly, And what I faw, I will declare the truth thereof, without any addition.

In the first place, was a Pable of Silver, Four square, fer in the midft of the Palace, Then came in a great King, Cloathed in Silver Rayment, and led the King of Sweden on his right hand, afterward fet himfelf down at the Table, with his back South-ward, and face Northward, and the King of Sweden over against him; And on the right fide of the faid King, the Elector of Herdelberg, of Saxony, of Brandenburg, having allo their faces Westward, and backs Eastward; But between this King and the Elector of Saxony, fat a Cardinal, or fome spiritual person of great Authority, in a Silver Chair, at the Corner of the Lable, holding in his hand a Bishops Crosser of Silver, that was very thick, and was Cloathed in long Prickly Robes all of Silver, as was the Kings, and was Girde also with a Girdle, and had on his head a Cap of an unufual

On the left fide, sat one, much like unto Rahoxi, Cloathed after the Hungarian manner, the Spanish Ambas-satur near to him, and then the Emperors, and others: The English and Dutch Embassadours sat next to the King of Sweden. About this King stood Silver Chairs all round, on which sat the mighty States General, ranged in order in three Rows. And then there was a very great noise of shouting, and after the shouting, were Psalms, and spiritual Songs, Sung after the French manner, so that from this Singing and from the Musick of all sorts, a mighty noise was made; The Singing Masters Menfeblieb Zangen I did affire aloud in Singing the Pfairs, the tune of which was known to me. Meri and a finall (Silver Table was brought in on Typ Sangs on which Live the Propes Crown to And partends at one defire of this King, and of the Princes the advancement of Cardinal frood up; and flooke the Coon with the Lipe for that it flow all to pieces, and the Yen on by trobust on the Silver Shiver, here's wall to pieces, and the Yen or by trobust being done, there was dradies non-refine ing. And after the shouting there was great rejo constanting and Playing of Instruments.

There existe in a Queen and set her self down near the King, Cloathed life him, and behind her cause a train of Ladies, Singling about of Plains and Songs bringing a Noble present with them on a Golden Stane, which they presented the King, and slice was hearth a trainer a mighty throng of Nobling and Gentry, from all parts of the world, and brought the faid King a Caown and a Sword, which Crown in presence of all the Potentates they land before him and put the Sword in his hand that he should fight against the Bainsonian beast; and then made him a Complement, which I could not understand, for it was done in French, and the man I durst not ask only what related to my seeing, and apprehending of thing, on which was made a mighty noise of Shouting and Singing: And then came in a Company appearing like Chizens, and then came in a Company appearing like Chizens, and thought the King a Noble present, and made him a Compliment, but I could not understand it is And, all this a her was complexed with shouting, singling, and playing on Instruments.

ing, and playing on Instruments.

And now when the Novelley had brought the Crown and put the Sword into the Kings mand, The taid King gave the King of Sweden the right hand, and the Princes and Potentates who flood by, and the King, put their hands thereon, and killed each other; upon which they Sung the 20 Plasm, and then a far greater noise of shouting and singing was heard; so that the very Earth shook again. Then hereast or they all stood up, and went into a great Church, where the King Crowned the before mentioned Cardinal, and set up in his head a singular Patriarchs Cap, sike a Cardinals Hat, and many Preachers set thereby Cloathed in white Garmene, by and round the Altar, and sung French Pjalms in the presence of many thousand Men. Then the Rieg appointed him to be the Overseer of Gods Church, as was stojes, Samuel, &c.

Our of this Church I met wich the same Mah in the open field, where the King muster'd his Army, and sent his Forces towards the South and the West, manfully to fight and oppose all who should withstand him. But the Cardinal did appoint a Reformation in all Cities, and ordained hierry as in the old Lass. But what could not by him be determined that should come before the King.

It was alfoordoined, that nothing either in Spiritual or Temporal affairs, should be transacted without the knowledge of this King, and the forementioned Patentatera. His forces did mightily encrease from all parts, and his dominion lies as it it were Dutabland, and he shall remain a Gelebrated King as long as the world endures, and he shall have no end. Also in the time of his Reign there shall be Peace, Unity and all manner of Good, as in Solomons time. And it was clear day, and I awaked.

The foregoing lines are a Vision, or Prophety of one Stephen Mellish a Polonian, I have eleven more by me of the same, with notations on them. Printed in Anno 1678. But the above (for my diversion, as also ter some suitablench which I thought I saw in it to the present Conjuncture) I thought worth my while to Translate as well as I could from the original, high Dutch. The Publisher and Amorator on the faid 12 Visions tells me, that the 3 hit were fulfilled prefently after the Revelation of them, that the 5 following were in fulfilling, and therefore doubts the less of the fulling of the 4 laft.

Fohannes Amos Comenius, in his last Trump over Germany, page 55. gives Stephen Mellish the following Charecter. I which have knowledge of him, his person and Conversation, am sarisfied in the Lord, In the first place, that he himself did not endite his Revelations; fince that he is a man really pious and one that truly fears God, in the second place, that he could not if he would, being a very simple Man, and such things go above his understanding; In the third place, that God having so seconded him and his Revelation, as to fulfil most of them in a short time, doth truly declare that they can proceed from no other cause but from him that knoweth all things. So far Johannes Amos Comenius, quoted in the Preface of my Little Book, but who he is I cannot tell, I suppose him to be a learned Pole or German, but let him be who he will, the Character feems to be very fincere and honest, and therefore has induced me to Transcribe it. The Publisher and Annotator on the before mentioned 12 Visions, supposed this Great King in my Text to be the King of France, and about 30 years ago presented them to him at St. Germains ( with several other Books) by the hand of the Earl of Comingit, who told him that the King had received it, and feat it to the Serben, with a Command that the Doctors should pursue it, and give him the sence of it. No doubt but Lewis the 14th flattered himself much that he was to be this great King, and probable it is that he drew some of his. measures therefrom; for we find he began to pick Quarrels with the Pope, and defigned to have fer up a Patriarch in France, and had he not had other work cut out, he might have made a confiderable advance therein. But now to his morrification, he may eafily perceive he is not the Man, being not at all joyned in any fuch Confederacy, but without the help of the Sorbon he may Interpret my Propher, and plainly fee who is.

At first, when I happed on this Prophesy, (being in Switzerland, Anno 1692.) I thunght it might be jome Counterfeit Calculated to the Meridian of King William, and the Confederacy, being it feemed so plainly to point them out, so I con-Justed the date of it which being in 1678. I was better fatished, but because in the Confederacy I saw not the King of Sweden concerned, I laid it afide. But Queen Mary dying there then seemed a door to be opened to let the King of Sweden come in. For should King William marry his daughter, 'tis featible enough that he should give the King of Sweden the right hand being his Father, and this being concerted, 'tis very probable such a Conjunction would bring about great matters; and at last open a door for the Reforming Patriarch or Cardinal (not Furstemburg) to have his share in the Prophecy, to then the whole would be fulfilled.

IN Grays- Im- Lane in Plom yard, the third door, lives Dr. Thomas Kirleus, a Collegiate Physician, and Sworn Physician in Ordinary to King Charles the Second, until his death; who with a Drink and Pill (hindring no Bufiness) undertakes to other parts; scabs, itch, scurts, leprosies, and Venereal diseases, expecting nothing until the cure be finished: Of the last he hath cured many hundreds in this City, many of them after fluxing, which carries the evil from the Lower Parts to the Head, and fo deftroys many. The Drink is 3 s. the Quart, the Pill 1 s. a box, with Directions; a better Purger than which was never given, for they cleause the body of all Impurities, which are the causes of dropsies, gouts, scurvies, stone, or gravel, Pains in the head, and other parts. Take heed whom you trust in Phylick, for it's become a common Cheat to profess it. He gives his opinion to all that write, or come, for nothing.

From the Undertakers of the Royal Academy.

Design of our late Proposals for establishing a Royal Academy here in Town, which notwithstanding has met with some difficulties, by reason of the great Number of Scholars we proposed to be taught, as also because some persons scrupled the security of performance, and others the word Lottery, or the method of being admitted by a sortuitous way of drawing; we have therefore, to obviate all possible Objections, thought sit to alter our former, and advance these New Proposals, first, That most of the best Masters in Town shall still be retain'd by us, to teach the following Arts and Sciences.

Languages, French, Latin and Greek.
Mitting and Accompts.
Dathematicks in all their parts.
Dufick, Organ, Harpfichord, Lute, Guittar, Theorboe, Viol, Violin, and Flute.
Dinging.
Dancing.
Gencing, Migestling, Maulting.

The Schollars in these Arts, and Sciences, are to be of two forts.

First, Externs, who shall come to our Academies, and be taught three times a week, and three hours at a time, in any One of the abovesaid Arts, or Sciences, having power to change as often as they please, and learn any other, paying 5 s. for every such exchange, the rates payable by Externs are only 6 l per Annum, whereof one half is to be advanced at their admittance, the other half, at the half years end. The number to be thus admitted into both our Academies, is at prefent design'd to be only 500.

Secondly, Academicks, who shall dyet, have Chambers, and necessary attendance in the Academies under the care and Government, of the Governour, and Masters living in the house. These also shall learn one Science at a time, and be taught the whole Week for 30!. fer Ann. at two payments as above, or 50!. per Ann. for them and their Servant, paying also 5s. for every time they exchange one Science for another. If either Academicks or Externs would be taught more than one Science at a time, they shall learn as many as they please at 30s. per quarter each. The number of these is design'd to be only 100, in all 600.

And if any of our Scholars, should be in the least diffatify'd, or have any Extraordinary business to divert'em from their studies, they shall be at liberty to sell, assign and transfer their right to any other person, who thereby shall be capable of the same priviledges, or if they please, shall at any Quarters end, deduct the remaining part, of their monies out of the stock.

We require not a present advance of any monies, but only a Subscription of the name and place of abode, of every one that designs to learn, and so soon as the SubscriptionBooks are full, publick notice shall be given, for every intended Schollar, their parents, or Guardians to meet at one of our Academies, and choose among themselves 5 persons as Trustees, and representatives of all the rest, into whose hands the Subscription mony shall be paid, they giving us security, that it shall be immediately put forth into the Royal Bank, or some where else, where it may lye ready for the necessary uses, and ends design'd and mention'd, in our proposals.

And for fear the faid Subscriptionmony shou'd fall short, by miscomputation, or some unforeseen accident, the Undertakers will also at the same time, give the said Trustees the fatther security of three thousand pounds, for a just and sull performance of the undertaking.

The Office of these Trustees will be to affist the Undertakers in a Committee, to be call'd every month where they shall have equal power, with the undertakers themselves, to hear all complaints, regulate all disorders; and make such good Laws, and Constitutio s, as may be for the interest and reputation, both of the Scollars, and the Design. The Care and attendance of these Trustees will be considered out of the publick stock.

Every rational person may caffly compute, that 'tis not any present Considerable Intereft that now engages us in this affair, the rates of teaching being here reduced to less than one half what is commonly paid, to the meanest masters, reckoning one Science with another; but because his Majesty has been graciously pleas'd to promise, that so soon as it shall please God to bless us with a peace, he will very confiderably encourage the Defign, and in the mean time, has given us 1000l. towards the building of a very large and noble Academy, in some convenient place near the Town; we therefore intend to begin to build, as foon as these Subscriptions are compleated, and will only at prefent take two Academies; one near the Royal-Exchange, the other in, or near Covent-Garden, for the prefent ease and Convenience of the Town, which two Academies, thall be converted into that one, which we delign to build.

In this great Academy we are going to build, and upon which willbe fetled ahandsom Fund to maintain it for ever will be taught Riding, and all other Arts and Sciences now known in Europe, and by the best Masters which can possibly be procur'd, allowing 'em very advantagious Sallaries, that every Art may meet with its due Encouragement and Improvement.

But of this New Foundation we shall have occasion to speak more at large in a very little time; for the Number of our Subscribers being so sew, and the Terms of Teaching so very advantagious, we doubt not but the Subscriptions will soon be full.

The Subscription-Books are now open, one of 'em at our Office, on the West End of the Royal Exchange, just under the Oughtropers-Office; the other at the Musick-Room in Charles-street in Covent Garden, where attendance will be given every Munday, Wednesday and Friday at the Exchange, and every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, at Covent garden, from I till 5 o' Clock.

Also most of the Masters engag'd in our former Proposals, have each his Book for Subscriptions, to the same end.
